Weekly Hydro Ship Activity Report

Welcome to NOAA's Weekly Hydrographic Ship Activity Report! We hope you enjoy this reader-friendly layout for our weekly report as we update you on the progress of our NOAA-ship and contractor-run surveys.

Highlights of this edition of Weekly Ship Report

- NOAA Ship Fairweather captured a good weather window and surveyed within the Strait of Juan de Fuca, WA for surveys H13412 and H13414 last week.
- OSI continued with RV Osprey in Long Island Sound, CT + NY for investigations and fill-ins.

FAIRWEATHER

OPR-N305-FA-20 Strait of Juan de Fuca, WA

Recap

- Fairweather had only had one afternoon (24 NOV) that was lost to weather. They were down to two vessels for two days for a CTD cable problem and a POSMV antenna cable problem. Both issues have since been resolved and FA is back to three launch capacity.

Looking Forward

- Fairweather is planning to wrap up launch acquisition on H13414 27NOV and move back to H13412 the morning of 28NOV. The primary focus will be on Neah Bay and working SE from there. 30NOV, FA will be going to Port Angeles to take on potable water. 05DEC, FA will have another mini inport in Port Angeles to offload some personnel assigned for training. FA is projected to close out H13412 and H13414 before that date at their current pace.

RAINIER

Recap

- Rainier completed her survey season.

Looking Forward

- Rainier is alongside in Newport, OR.

Contracted Vessels

OPR-K375-KR-20 Houston Ship Channel, TX

Recap

- No acquisition occurred. DEA scheduled a Thanksgiving holiday stand down until 11/30.

Looking Forward

- DEA will resume surveying the week of 11/30.

OPR-B300-KR-20 Long Island Sound, CT + NY

Recap

- RV Osprey surveyed every day this past week collecting fill-in data and conducting feature investigations in Surveys H13384 and H13385.
- Weather delays shortened operations on the first 2 days of the week.

Looking Forward

- RV Osprey will continue fill-ins and investigations in all sheets as weather permits.
